VOL. 42

FARMINGTON, ST. FRANCOIS COUNTY, MISSOURI, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1915.

NO. 34

Hon. Charles G. Revelle Will Succeed Judge Brown

Will Be Youngest Justice on Bench. Has Held Positions of Trust with Honor to Himself and His Constituency.

Charles G. Revelle, State Superintendent of Insurance, who is to be appointed by Governor Major to succeed the late Judge Brown, is 37 years old, and will be the youngest Supreme Judge in the United States. He was born in Lutesville, Mo., November 10, 1877. When he was 21 years old he was elected Prosecuting Attorney of Bollinger county. After serving two terms he became the law partner of Congressman Walter L. Hensley at Farmington, Mo. When Gov. Major was elected Attorney-General, Revelle was appointed first assistant Attorney General. He had the distinction of being the youngest Assistant Attorney General in the United States. He is married and resides in Jefferson City.

Judge Brown's term was to expire in December, 1920. The successor to be named by Gov. Major will hold office until January, 1917, when the successful candidate for the vacancy at the election in November, 1916, will take office.

Walter K. Chorn of Fayette, Mo., who is Chief Assistant to Superintendent Revelle, is to be appointed Superintendent of Insurance when Revelle takes his place on the bench.

Mr. Revelle was an aspirant to the important office of Attorney-General, but as a member of the Supreme Court he isn't likely to make the race.

Congressman Walter L. Hensley says that Judge Revelle will take to the bench with him youth, vigor and ability; that he will not only reflect credit upon Gov. Major in everything that he does on the bench but will reflect credit upon the state and that he gets no little pleasure out of the appointment.

SAD ACCIDENT NEAR LIBERTYVILLE

Last Friday morning Prof. C. F. Baker, ex-County Supt. of Schools of Madison county, and who now resides at Mine La Motte, took his shotgun down from the rack and left for the vicinity of Libertyville for a hunt. About noon Mr. Baker stopped in at the home of Mr. John Helm for a rest. Seeing some little folks in the home, he decided to unload the gun. The firearm was a breech-loading shotgun, and as he was unbreeching the gun, accidentally it discharged, the load entering the fleshy part of the thigh of the five-year-old boy who happened at that moment in front of the gun. The wound was an ugly one, and Mr. Baker and Mr. Helm arranged to take the little fellow to Mine La Motte, where medical attention could be administered at the earliest possible moment.

On arriving at the doctor's office the physician recognized that the life of the child was in great danger, due principally from the loss of blood, and shortly after the child was placed on the operating table, its little soul took its flight to the God who gave it. The funeral was conducted by Rev. Quick of Fredericktown at the Cross Roads church, four miles south of Libertyville. Interment was had in the Cross Roads cemetery.

The Times extends sympathy to the bereaved.

BIG LABOR DAY AT STE. GENEVIEVE

September the 6th, will be long remembered by a large majority of the citizens of Ste. Genevieve county, as one of the biggest social days in the history of the county. The hospitality of these people as a whole is unusual, and Labor Day is held inviolably and celebrated as one of the most important National holidays. The attractions consisted of a splendid parade, a large barbecue dinner, band music, refreshments, etc. A large delegation from Farmington motored to the celebration, among whom were the following: Charley Giessing, Jr., Henry Reuter, W. W. Waters, Joe Isenman, John Knowels, F. A. Benham, Homer Carver, Earl Williams, Herman and Albert Trauernicht, Henry Herman, Geo. Foster, Henry Cleve, Hugh Mitchell, Harry Herman, John Coffman, Taylor Smith and Peter Giessing, Jr.

MRS. J. M. PERKINS VISITS TIMES OFFICE

Last Wednesday morning Mrs. J. M. Perkins, who resides near Sprott and is the mother of Dr. G. B. Perkins, a prominent citizen and popular physician of that vicinity, came into The Times office to extend her subscription another year. She stated that she had read The Times many years and intended to continue so to do.

Mrs. Perkins, although 82 years old her next birthday, was looking quite hale and hearty. She said that she could walk a mile or two without any great evidence of fatigue, and when asked to have a seat and rest awhile, declined, saying that she was in a sort of hurry as she had some business to attend to.

Now, here we have a typical representative of the plain and simple life of three generations ago. She was clad in the simple dress of that beautiful age, the long loose dress, the ample waist that looked the comfort it is, the popular bonnet of that day, peering from which could be seen those eyes radiant and sparkling with life—windows of the soul—as of a person of half so many years; her cheeks were rosy, not from modern paint and powder, but from the flow of the crimson blood of health.

Such a striking contrast when we make a comparison with the feminine dress of to-day! Laced until the ribs are forced to overlap; the capacity of the lungs reduced by reason of inability to inflate; the heart's free action impeded, inducing faintness, weak circulation, impoverishing the health and creating fertile ground and favorable conditions for the inception of disease; and last but not least, the coating of paint and powder necessary to impart that rosy glow of health artificially to the palid cheek.

No wonder that but few of the feeble sex pass 60 years nowadays; the wonder is that their longevity should be so great, when we consider the adverse decrees of Dame Fashion.

MRS. ANNA MARY BRADY DIES OF TUBERCULOSIS

Last Friday evening, September 3, at 8:15 o'clock, Mrs. Anna Mary Brady, who had been confined to her bed with tuberculosis for the past thirteen months, passed away at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hammerle, of Farmington, at the age of 45 years, 8 months and 23 days.

Mrs. Brady left her home in Montana more than a year ago and came to Farmington to wait on her mother, who had unfortunately broken a lower limb. Soon after her arrival she caught a severe cold, which is believed to have been the inception of that dreadful disease from which few people ever recover.

Mrs. Brady united with the Lutheran church in early childhood and remained a faithful and consistent Christian and church worker.

The funeral was conducted by the Lutheran minister, Rev. H. Hallerberg, at the St. Paul's Lutheran church in Farmington at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, September 5th; interment was had at the Lutheran cemetery.

Among the friends and relatives out of town who attended the funeral, were Mrs. Fred Sellor, Mrs. Ed Rank, Mr. James Brady and Otto Hammerle of St. Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Giessing, Mrs. Martin Purcher and son, Willie, of East St. Louis.

Mrs. Brady leaves a husband and one child, Frank Martin, father and mother of Farmington, and a brother and sister of St. Louis, and a large circle of friends to mourn her untimely death.

The Times extends sympathy to the bereaved in this hour of sorrow.

JOHNSON—McDANIEL

On Tuesday, September 7th, at 1 o'clock, Mr. Robert Johnson of Baltimore and Miss Nannie McDaniel of Farmington were united in marriage at the bride's home in Farmington, Rev. O. H.

Constable Trask immediately secured a rig and started with the dying man to the National Hospital, but before arriving there he expired, having lived but 30 minutes after the fatal shot.

The woman was shot in the back and was taken to the National Hospital, where she died about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. She lived 13 hours after the tragedy.

Politte was a bachelor and was 40 years of age.

The woman, it is reported, had been instrumental in the death of three men previous through her immoral machinations.

L. Cunningham officiating.

Miss McDaniel is the daughter of Mrs. Ophelia McDaniel of our city, and is a highly accomplished young lady. For the past two years she has held an important stenographic position in the law office of Hon. Edward A. Rozier.

Mr. Johnson was reared in St. Louis, and his mother still resides there. For the past three years he has been a linotype operator for a large newspaper establishment in Baltimore.

The happy couple left for St. Louis on the 2:14 afternoon car shortly after the ceremony to attend a reception that evening at the home of his mother. Wednesday they departed for Baltimore, where they will reside.

The Times joins their many friends in wishing these young people a happy and prosperous matrimonial voyage on life's sea.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Rev. G. W. Harlan an aged and splendid citizen of this city, celebrated his 91st birthday last Tuesday. Mr. Harlan is quite strong and healthy for a man of his advanced age, and it is hoped that he may live to see many more birthday anniversaries, enjoying a goodly measure of health and of life's pleasures.

Quite a number of his friends and relatives shared in the celebration and extended pleasant greetings, wishing him many happy returns of the day.
